September 2011

September 20- 23	24th Annual National Prevention Network Prevention Research Conference	The National Prevention Network (NPN) – the prevention component of the National Association of State Alcohol and Drug Abuse Directors (NASADAD) – has announced the Call for Proposals for the 24th Annual NPN Prevention Research Conference: Prevention on My Mind, which will highlight and introduce evidence-based programs, innovations, practices and principles moving toward high quality prevention program implementation. The planning committee is seeking proposals from high-quality prevention programs that have combined research, data, and practical application. New this year, planners are also asking for cutting-edge workshop proposals that convey prevention-relevant findings but do not possess a formal evaluation. The high-quality and well-attended conference will incorporate National, State, and Regional prevention presentations. For each proposal accepted, one (1) presenter will receive a conference registration scholarship; all other expenses such as travel, lodging and per diem will be the responsibility of the presenters. Planners are seeking proposals in each of seven core areas: Selective and/or indicated populations/communities in transition; culturally-relevant prevention; sustainability; critical federal guidelines and initiatives; research-to-practice; practice-to-research/innovative approaches; emerging trends, issues and policies; and other. You are invited to submit a proposal or encourage colleagues to submit a proposal by February 25, 2011. See details regarding instructions and guidelines for submitting proposals at http://swpc.ou.edu/npn. While we understand the need to provide participants with the valuable resources from your organization, due to limited time during workshop sessions, we invite you to showcase your products and services in our exhibit area. For more information regarding the exhibit area, please contact Lynn Beard, 405-325-1446 or beardl@ou.edu. The program committee will notify all proposal presenters no later than April 19, 2011 regarding your proposals' acceptance Location: Westin Peachtree Plaza, Atlanta, Georgia Contact: Rick Cady, Garrison Gladfelter, or Chris Wood
